How do end-users opt in to receive messages?

The employee enables SMS in their user account by first checking a box that authorizes the use of SMS. Second, they add their mobile number into the system. This is all done under their account that is password protected. https://merydyan.com/wp-content/uploads/2024/10/SMS_security_auth.png

At any time the person can remove authorization by replying STOP or removing the SMS Authorization check mark located in their account.
